

JEANNINE MARX FRUCI

Biography: Although an art major at the University of Washington, Jeannine began her career owning a technical recruiting company in Spokane Washington. With her children now on the own career paths Jeannine's focus returned once again to her passion for art. As a fine artists Jeannine is blessed to the have the opportunity to show, sell, market, mentor new artists, donate, win awards in juried shows, and share her gift. Some of the greatest joys have been teaching art at local grade schools and significant donation to many worthy non-profit organizations.

Jeannine is grateful to everyone who has supported her over the years by purchasing her art. She looks forward to meeting new patrons as her God-given talent as a fine artist continues to develop. "My hope is that my paintings continue to resonate with people and hopefully speaks to them!"

ARTIST'S STATEMENT

I believe watercolor as a medium, has chosen me. My interpretation strives to be neither typical nor predictable. I love creating vibrant color urban landscapes, animals, trains and floral. The intense and contrasting colors with use of the white of the paper is what appeals to me. My style fluctuates, along with my color pallet depending on the subject and emotion I hope to evoke.
